

DVD Package

- Comprehensive full day photographic coverage by one photographer
- Economy post-processing of all images
- Disc with all images in high resolution, JPEG format

This low-cost package is ideal for creative individuals who seek high quality photographic and artistic service, and a wedding professional's expertise, but prefer to handle the rest themselves. Original image files are released to clients on a DVD in high resolution, in both consumer JPEG and, upon request, professional universal DNG formats, for their further digital enhancements, retouching, and creative manipulation. High resolution of these image files also allows clients to print either at home or in the photo lab of their choice. A print rights release, required by professional photo labs, is granted upon request.

Build Your Own Package

- Comprehensive full day photographic coverage by one photographer
- Standard post-processing of each image
- Secured online proofing and print ordering
- Shareable online slideshow of your favorite images

This package allows for full after-wedding product customization and includes photography and image preparation service only. Upon completion of standard post-processing to achieve baseline brightness and color via exposure correction and white balance adjustment, the images are indexed and posted to a password-protected online repository. From there, you'll be able to order a variety of products, from proofs and prints to luxurious albums and oil-on-canvas paintings. Create your own package! Moreover, simple progressive discounts are available so you can get the same savings as those offered in the preset packages.

Essentials Package

The gem of this solid, versatile package is a separate photo session for the bride, offered before the actual wedding date and done to the highest standards and principles of Zorz Studios' signature fine art portraiture work. An engagement session may be substituted. On your wedding day, not one, but two photographers will be working for you, covering more locations and angles! In addition to receiving a greater number of signature images and a larger credit for prints, you'll get a beautiful, custom, coffee-table wedding album and two book copies to share with your parents or friends. The selected images are supplied in the highest resolution electronic format, allowing you to reprint and enlarge them as you desire. In addition to the standard online slideshow, you'll also get your selected images in a format optimized for online broadcasting or a specialized portable device.

This package offers the most in product assortment and more than $3,000 in savings, along with a generous print credit. It includes not only the pre-wedding bridal session, conducted to the highest standards and principles of Zorz Studios' signature fine art portraiture work, but also the pre-wedding engagement session and a guest book designed from its shots. Greet your wedding guests in style and let them enjoy these special images while signing your book! Save-the-Date cards will sport your professional and full-of-life portrait taken during the engagement session, while Thank-You cards will bring your favorite wedding image to your guests! On your wedding day, not one, but two photographers will be working for you, covering more locations and angles! Not only will you get Zorz Studios' signature magazine-cover retouching on enough photos to compile an entire magazine (okay, album), but also true artistic conversions from photographs to editorial-like illustrations. This is not your typical photographer's service, but to make it even more special, you'll get two additional copies of your primary album, of the same quality, to make your parents proud. Find room on your wall to hang a masterfully crafted gallery wrap with your favorite photo mounted on canvas. Load a professionally produced disc into your DVD player or computer, sit back, and enjoy a high-resolution movie made from your selected images and accompanied by the enchanting (or wild) song of your choice. You'll also get a smaller version of this show for your PDA, phone, or video music player. And, to add to the tremendous value of this package, you'll receive a DVD containing every standard, retouched, and artistically processed image with reprinting rights. Own and enjoy it all.
